OUR DIFFERENCE

“Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.” —Matthew 19:14 (NIV)

“Let the little children come to [Jesus] ...”	“... do not hinder them ...”	“... for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.”
Children explore and deepen their relationship with Jesus.	Children and families overcome stumbling blocks hindering them from experiencing God’s love.	Children develop a curiosity for knowing Jesus and pursuing a relationship with Him.
Partner with churches and Christian ministries (e.g., Awana, Scripture Union, Youth for Christ, and OneHope) to provide biblically based programs.	Strengthen churches to revitalize children’s ministries and equip families in areas of child protection through Channels of Hope and Celebrating Families.	Scale up values-based, biblically aligned programming in multifaith contexts to support spiritual nurture.

WORLD VISION DIFFERENCE

Our CONVICTION is that fullness of life includes children growing in their knowledge and understanding of God's love in Jesus Christ.

Our COMMITMENT is to eliminate roadblocks that hinder children from fully understanding and experiencing God's love.

Our CALL is to serve the most vulnerable—even in contexts where practicing Christianity is against the law or politically sensitive.

In CHRISTIAN CONTEXTS > We equip and partner with churches, Christian ministries, parents, and other caregivers in the process of "letting children come to Jesus."

In EVERY CONTEXT > We mobilize faith leaders and communities to ensure children are protected, well provided for, and have opportunities to reach their God-given potential.

In RESTRICTED CONTEXTS > We create spaces for children to learn about kingdom values in ways that empower them to be agents of transformation in their homes and communities. Our prayer is that these activities provoke questions that point to Jesus as the answer.

CENTRAL AMERICA FAITH PROJECT

Latin America experiences the most violence and economic imbalance of the world's regions. Many factors hinder children and youth from experiencing God's love including migration, domestic violence, family breakdown, poverty, gangs, drugs, and alcohol.

The good news? The Central America Faith Project mobilizes church denominations to reach 2 million children, youth, and adults.

ASIA FAITH PROJECT

In many Asian countries, sharing about Christian faith is restricted. World Vision's expression of Christian identity must adapt to governmental and societal restrictions.

The Asia Faith Project supports the spiritual nurture of children in these multifaith countries to reach 3 million children, youth, and adults.

GENERATIONAL CHANGE

Christian discipleship programs have far-reaching impact to not just the current generation of children, but those of their children, grandchildren, and beyond. Right now, we're at a tipping point to shape a godly future for millions of children.
